DETAILED ACTION

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1,3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Jung et al (6,436,771).

The prior art discloses an integrated circuit composed of first and second transistors provided with gate dielectric layers different in thickness whereby the first gate dielectric is composed of a thin nitride layer and an oxide layer on and the second provided with an oxide layer first and an oxynitride layer on top. The structure as can be seen in the front page finally produces a first transistor with thinner gate dielectric layer in the integrated two-transistor system. Further, the first thin nitride layer on the first portion of the semiconducting surface indeed limits the oxidation rate of the semiconductor layer underneath while allowing effecting oxidation on the same region through.

As for claim 3, the second gate dielectric layer is thicker than the composite gate dielectric layer of the first transistor.

As for claim 5, an oxide layer is deposited on the nitride film.

As for claim 6, the overall structure of the prior art conforms to a memory device.

As for claim 8, the first and second transistor areas on the substrate are peripheral to each other.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2,4,7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the same prior art.

As for claims 2,4, although the prior art may not have taught of a silicon oxide or an ONO material in the structure, exchanging a dioxide material for an oxide or ONO material is known in the art since the choices allow a specific design to use appropriate dielectric constant that might assist a specific designer with different capacitances as needed in the specific arrangement.

As for claim 7, transistors and specifically MOSFETs are known logic control elements and thus the overall structure of the prior art conforms to a logic control circuit by broad definition.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Fetsum Abraham whose telephone number is: 571-272-1911. The examiner can normally be reached on 8:00 - 18:00.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Nathan J Flynn can be reached at 571-272-1915.
